

Mr. Debasish Maitra is currently fellow participant at the Institute of Rural Management Anand (IRMA), Gujarat and pursuing second year of the doctoral programme i.e. Fellow Programme in Rural Management (FPRM). He has a degree in Agriculture, i.e. B.Sc (Ag) Hons. and a Post Graduate degree in Agriculture with specialization in Plant Protection from Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya, West Bengal. Before joining doctoral programme at IRMA, he has worked in a project as a Senior Research Fellow sponsored by M/s Cheminova Pvt. Ltd and as Assistant Manager in Union Bank of India which together accounts 2.5 years of experience. His contribution to the research included publication of one paper based on his thesis during M.Sc. in Advances in Plant Science. In addition to this, he has also participated in other national level seminars and secured second position in poster presentation. He has also taken part in one competition on Rural Marketing organized by Rural Marketing Association of India (RMAI) in New Delhi and also presented one paper at International Finance Conference at Indian Institute of Management Calcutta.